*Intrigue™
Whisper*

Intrigue™ Whisper is made from polycrystalline cultured alumina. Developed by General Electric for a variety of medical and industrial uses, this material allows for great strength and integrity in shape, and gives a smooth low-friction surface and shock-resistant flexibility.

Unlike other ceramic brackets, Intrigue™ Whisper is designed to possess the aesthetically desirable translucent face of a monocrystalline while maintaining the superior strength of a polycrystalline. Intrigue™ Whisper also offers unparalleled patient comfort due to its precisely-manufactured extremely rounded edges.
